

PRINCETON POST

Getting Caught Up!

October is a busy month! The City of Princeton has launched a brand new website! The new site has enhanced features and a sleek new look that makes staying connected with the city easier. If you haven't checked it out, do so now: www.Princetontx.gov

During this month we observe Breast Cancer Awareness Month, where many in the community come out to participate in charity walks and fundraisers for cancer survivors and research.

National Bullying Prevention Awareness Month is another opportunity for the community to unite with our own Princeton Police Department to educate and raise awareness of bullying prevention.

Domestic Violence Awareness Month is also supported by the Princeton Police Department to bring awareness to Domestic Violence in our community and lead the effort to take a stand to help put an end to domestic violence.

During the week of October 8-14 we observe Fire Prevention Week, the Princeton Fire Department delivered Fire Safety Programs to the schools for the children to take home to their families. This year's program theme is Know 2 Ways Out.

For more information on any of these initiatives, visit the City of Princeton, Princeton Fire Department or Princeton Police Department Facebook Pages.
